If you are like me and want to be an EMS pilot or flight crew, you need it. Or anyone who likes medical or aviation. I love it and I just started it. I would highly recommend it. This guys life definitely makes an exciting story. I finally found it here because I don't like to read online so I ordered it and it was here quite soon. Love it!!!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Best fun you can get on an ambulance.By Peter HigginsVery funny. Great insight into the lift and wonders of an air ambulance doctor. Would love to hear more.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Hilarious!By NamibianI love this book from page 1. It gives one an insight into the life of air ambulance crews by focusing on the funny parts. Although I'm sure to be in the situation at that moment is not funny.

'People get into this work for "the juice", meaning the adrenaline rush, but they don't tell you about the other juices—the mud, blood, snot and grot.'Confessions of an Air Ambulance Doctor is the first ever behind-the-scenes account of life onboard an air ambulance. The first of its kind to carry doctors and surgeons who can take the hospital to the patient. Drug addicts, lorry crashes, open-heart surgery, stab wounds, headless chickens, mating llamas, and strip routines—it's all in a day's work for emergency doctor Tony Bleetman and his team. Whether they are landing in the middle of the M1 or at a maximum security jail, Tony and his crew Helimed 999 are the first on the scene in the most critical of emergencies. This gripping read will make you laugh, cry and marvel at the wonders of life (and death) in equal measure. This book is also available under the title You Can't Park There!: The Highs and Lows of an Air Ambulance Doctor.

About the AuthorTony Bleetman grew up in London and is a consultant in Emergency Medicine. A former Army medic he has been a volunteer Helicopter Emergency Medical Services (HEMS) doctor for the last 10 years. He currently flies with the air ambulance unit in Bristol. In 2006, he won the National Life Saver Bravery Award in recognition of his services.
