Mike Baldwin : Cornered - Benign Humor: Medical Cartoons before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cornered - Benign Humor: Medical Cartoons:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. One of the best Cornered collections, in our book--every page chock full of fun/funnyBy kinnickkinnickHilarious and delightfully disorienting, whether from the patient's or the healthcare provider's point of view! Mike Baldwin pokes his irony gently at human foibles as well as our trials and tribulations in the body while also niggling at some of the wry byways of our modern Western culture and social assumptions. One of my favorites (and we have almost all of his volumes)...1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great as a gift to a doctorBy TootGave this to my doctor for her birthday. She loved it.

Mike Baldwin's Cornered does a full workup on your funny bone. If laughter is the best medicine this is your prescription. Whether you're in the medical profession, or simply a victim of it, you'll enjoy this slightly off-label look at what makes us tick and what makes us sick. Let the healing begin! 124 full color cartoons! How do you react when cornered? Talk your way out, prepare for battle or insist you're just fine and dandy? Mike Baldwin's "Cornered" characters reflect the full spectrum of these reactions - all the while doing their very best to be taken seriously. From dark to light to blindingly brilliant, the results delight, amuse or even confuse - but it's well worth the risk.

About the Author Born in Ontario in 1954, it took almost 16 years for Mike' to land his first Job. It was at a meat packing plant. It lasted four hours. The experience made him realize what he really wanted to do - work somewhere else. Mike's career as an artist was launched a few years later in The Burlington Gazette. He began a weekly cartoon called "Peepal." A panel called "Aunt Alas" soon followed. And, eventually, he became the newspaper's editorial cartoonist. Over the next several years, Mike worked at various newspapers as a cartoonist, advertising artist and art director. Before devoting his full attention to Cornered in 1998, Mike was editorial art director at The Hamilton Spectator. This gave him a first hand look at the new wave of technology entering the news room. Mike realized the value of color and decided to create Cornered in color every day. Advances in pagination made it practical. Other cartoons were sometime 'colorized' by a third party, but Cornered was one of the first daily syndicated cartoons to be colored by the cartoonist. On April 1, 1996, Cornered was launched and a year later Cornered joined Universal Uclick. Mike lives in Southern Ontario, Canada with his wife, Lynda, and two very moody cats.
