

Cowboy Curmudgeon and Other Poems

Wallace McRae

ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

Download

Read Online

#1571670 in Books Gibbs Smith 1992-01-28 Format: Illustrated Original language: English PDF # 1 9.00 x .41 x 6.00l, #File Name: 0879054638160 pages | File size: 39.Mb

Wallace McRae : Cowboy Curmudgeon and Other Poems before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cowboy Curmudgeon and Other Poems:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Excellent book of Cowboy poetry. By Trishal have just recently started reading and learning about cowboy/western poetry and this is one of a few books I purchased. I subscribe to American Cowboy magazine and I am more of a western/country fan than a real life cowboy but I find it all to be captivating and a nice escape. I heard about these authors reading that magazine and I figured I'd check them out. Good poems and a nice presentation. If you are into poetry about nature, living on the range and the country lifestyle you'll probably really enjoy this book. Even if you aren't into the western lifestyle and like reading some nice poetry you'll dig this. Another good writer and poet is Baxter Black. He is a very talented poet along these lines and he has a lot of affordable entertaining books here on .0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. BookBy Big GeorgeIt is on but not waht I thought it was but that is my fault!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. All of Wallace McRaeBy C. Ross AndersonI really love his poem called Reincarnation. Hoped to find so others a good, but was disappointed. Lots of stuff.

Wally McRae is a classic among today's cowboy poets. He recites his poems regularly on a syndicated television program, "The West," and often is a featured performer at the annual Cowboy Poetry Gathering in Elko. He has performed at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, among other places. In 1990 McRae became the first cowboy poet to be granted a National Heritage Award from the NEA in Washingto, D.C. And all this while managing his family's 30,000-acre cow-calf ranch in Forsyth, Montana. McRae began writing poetry over twenty-five years ago in an attempt to record the values, humor and plight of his occupation. He leaves no western subject uncovered. His topics range from hat etiquette and hollyhocks to ballad-like tales and cowboy nostalgia. Three previous books of his poems have been published. This wonderful collection contains over fifty of his most popular poems, including classics such as "Reincarnation" and "Give Us a Son, Ian Tyson," along with forty new poems published here for the first time.

Ain't No Cowboy Heaven Anothe Cowboy Applied Genesis Bareback Rider The Belt Bill Seward, King Of The Jersey Lilly Boot Shopping Box Elders Broke, Afoot And Old Call Anytime Charles Finley Parking The Clincher Clint Coffee Commuted Sentence The Complaint Cowboy A Conversation With Albert A Cost-return Analysis Cowboy Curmudgeon The Coyote Custer Country The Debut Definitions Of Poor Degrees Of Water Different Drummers The Disputed Epicure Dock Groom E.m. (red) Kluver Eminent Domain Exodus Gabe Foster Give Us A Song, Ian Tyson Gooseberries Grandmother's French Hollyhocks The Grass-fat Steers The Great Montana Centennial Cattle Drive Handy Harry Hat Etiquette Hired Hand Holiday Season The Homestead House Howdy, Mr. Hunter I Knowed Old Charlie Well In Quest Of The Festive Bough Jerry Kinzel The Land The Lingo Of Our Callin' Little Things The Livestock Leader Maggie Malcolm And The Stranglers Me And The Hippie On The Greyhound Bus My Requiem National Park Ol' Proc Old Bluffer The Old Men In The Lobby Old Speed And Two Milk Cows On Rural Relocation One More Shipping Day An Ounce Of Prevention Our Communion Outriders At The End Of The Trail Pax Vobiscum Put That Back...hoedown A Quiet Night On The Prairie Rachel Ranch Wife Red Pup, Bonine And Owl Reincarnation Rider's Block Rodeo Roundup's Over A Salute To The Cowboy Artists Shopping Signs Snuffy And Sodie And The Cowboy Code Sold To The Highest Bidder Telephone Call Ten Thousand Places Things Of Intrinsic Worth Three Dogs Sat On The Sidewalk The Torch Is Passed Touchy Questions Up North Is Down The Crick Urban Cowboy Vegetable Cultivation We Never Rode The Judiths Weeds What Kind Of An Outfit You Got? Winter Moisture A Woman's Place Is In The Home. That Always Has Made Sense The Yellowstone Zack Tilman -- Table of Poems from Poem Finder@From the Inside FlapContents Boot Shopping We Never Rode the Judiths The Coyote Up North is Down the Crick Three Dogs Sat on the Sidewalk The Belt A Quiet Night on the Prairie The Gras-Fat Steers A Woman's Place Gabe Foster Eminent Domain The Disputed Epicure A Conversation with Albert One More Shipping Day Ranch Wife Maggie The Homestead House Exodus Old Speed and Two Milk Cows Coffee Winter Moisture "I Knowed Old Charlie Well" Hat Etiquette Broke, Afoot and Old Bill Seward, King of the Jersey Lilly Commuted Sentence Another Cowboy An Ounce of Prevention In Quest of the Festive Bough Ol' Proc Telephone Call The Land Reincarnation Degrees of Water The Clincher What Kind of an Outfit You Got? Our Communion Rep Pup, Bonine, and Owl Zack Tilman Old Bluffer The Old Men in the Lobby Grandmother's French Hollyhocks Outriders at the End of the Trail The Torch is Passed Snuffy and Sodie and the Cowboy Code A Salute to the Cowboy Artists Give Us a Song, Ian Tyson Vegetable Cultivation The Yellowstone Howdy, Mr. Hunter Malcolm and the Stranglers Charles Finley Parkins Applied Genesis National Park Custer Country Ten Thousand Places Little Things Put That Back . . . Hoedown Call Anytime The Livestock Leader Rachel Definitions of Poor Pax Vobiscum Shopping The Great Montana Centennial Cattle Drive Dock Groom Hired Hand Weeds Box Elders Ain't No Cowboy Heaven The Lingo of Our Callin' A Cost-Return Analysis Handy Harry Me and the Hippie on the Greyhound Bus Bareback Rider Holiday Season My Requiem The Compleat Cowboy Different Drummers Riders' Block Signs Gooseberries Jerry Kinzel Clint On Rural Relocation The Debut E. M. (Red) Kluver Rodeo Sold to the Highest Bidder Things of Intrinsic Worth Touchy Questions Roundup's Over Urban Cowboy Cowboy Curmudgeon (C.C.)From the Back CoverWally McRae is a classic among today's cowboy poets. He recites his poems regularly on a syndicated television program, "The West," and often is a featured performer at the annual Cowboy Poetry Gathering in Elko. He has performed at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, among other places. In 1990 McRae became the first cowboy poet to be granted a National Heritage Award from the NEA in Washingto, D.C. And all this while managing his family's 30,000-acre cow-calf ranch in Forsyth, Montana. McRae began writing poetry over twenty-five years ago in an attempt to record the values, humor and plight of his occupation. He leaves no western subject uncovered. His topics range from hat etiquette and hollyhocks to ballad-like tales and cowboy nostalgia. Three previous books of his poems have been published. This wonderful collection contains over fifty of his most popular poems, including classics such as "Reincarnation" and "Give Us a Son, Ian Tyson," along with forty new poems published here for the first time.