The best-of-the-best of what's left on the cutting room floor from critically acclaimed Shannon Wheeler's cartoon submissions to The New Yorker. See the strips that were too crazy or too racy for a "respectable" publication! A new cartoon collection from the mind of Eisner Award-winning, Harvey-nominated, and current New Yorker cartoonist, Shannon Wheeler! It's the best-of-the-best of what's left on the cutting room floor from Wheeler's cartoon submissions to The New Yorker, following on the heels of his smash success I Thought You Would Be Funnier.

About the Author Eisner Award-winning artist Shannon Wheeler is best known for his character Too Much Coffee Man, which as a comic has appeared internationally in newspapers, magazines, and comic books. Dark Horse Comics has published five graphic novels that collect most of the work. 2006 saw the production of a "Too Much Coffee Man Opera" at the Portland Center of Performing Arts. It's the first opera to have been based on a comic book. His weekly strip Postage Stamp Funnies appeared in print edition of The Onion until 2009, when he began publishing cartoons in The New Yorker.
