They were all just random, although very beautiful and compelling. Read this book from cover to cover and thumb through to look at the pics often. If you love reading and love dogs, well, this book's for you! Of course, it didn't hurt that I only paid $1 for my copy!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. IN PRAISE OF LABSBy Sandra L. ColeI ORIGINALLY PURCHASED THIS BOOK DUE TO BEING A BIG FAN OF JAMES HERRIOT BOOKS. I WAS NOT DISAPPOINTED. THE STORIES ARE A GOOD READ. GOOD FROR ANYONE WHO LOVES LABS OR JUST DOG IN GENERAL.

Owners of Labrador retrievers know that if dogs are truly man's best friend, then their dogs are the best of the best.

Hunter or beloved companion, presidential pet or canine star, the trusty dog's intelligence, loyalty, and sweet nature have made it America's most popular breed. In this delightful book, the lab gets its due. As great writers of dog lore and life tell stories of Labs loveable and heroic, up to mischief or on the hunt. A kaleidoscope of images celebrate the dog in all its colors and seasons, from irresistible puppy to noble elder statesman of the kennel. If these stories and images don't move you to laughter and tears, then it's clear: you've never known the world's best dog, the Lab.

From the Inside Flap: As owners and admirers all agree, Labrador retrievers are the world's greatest dogs. They are more than man and woman's best friend—they're practically soul mates! Now, this stylish giftbook anthology of great stories and glorious photographs pays homage to our dogs. Here are tales from some of the world's favorite dog and nature writers, including James Herriot, Gary Paulsen, Roger Welsch, Ted Kerasote, Carol Davis, Kenny Salwey, Ron Schara, and more. Labs are consistently the number one registered breed with the American Kennel Club. We love our Labs—whether they're hunting dogs or household pets. In Praise of Labs gives praise where it's due—to the world's greatest dog!
