Adam Aitable : Interviews with Dead Celebrities before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Interviews with Dead Celebrities:

Full of wit and sarcasm, anyone who has previously enjoyed the "Interviews" section of Aitable.com will be thrilled to reread some old favorites and experience some new laughs. I especially love that this book is broken into individual segments that make it easy to pick and choose who you want to read about. You can sit and read the entire book straight through or you can jump around as much as you want. It's not easy to find good Kindle books, but not only do you get a TON of content for the price, you also get to enjoy a book that is formatted correctly and easy to read on any device. 6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Excellent Posthumous Humor By D. Konig There are only three things guaranteed in life. You will be required to pay taxes, at some point you will die, but before that you will laugh your ass off at this book filled with posthumous humor! While you may see other reviews citing this book as irreverent, or funny, or even on the cutting edge of after world journalism, I'd prefer to highlight it as an easy read, consumable in small bites if needed or big bites if desired, while maintaining its laugh out loud potency the entire way through. Looking forward to the sequels! 4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Buying the Funny Farm By Debbie This book is so funny, you'll almost look forward to the day that Betty White kicks the bucket and Adam writes a sequel. About halfway through, I forgot it was Adam's voice, and not actually George Carlin delivering a posthumous rant. And as much as you'll laugh, you'll shed a happy tear as the iSpirit of Steve Jobs speaks to Adam from the Cloud. When I buy the farm, Adam's the first person I'm going to go see, to get in the last word.

Darkly humorous, usually sarcastic, and always profane and offensive, Interviews with Dead Celebrities tears apart the pillars upon which we place celebrities, politicians, and entertainers with sharp social commentary in the form of interviews that are relentless in their pursuit of the raw, honest, (albeit completely fictional) truth. Written by humorist and comedian Adam Avitable, this book asks the questions you've always wanted to know. Why did Whitney Houston throw away her good will for drugs? Did Osama bin Laden really hate America? Can Steve Jobs tell a joke? Does Joe Paterno care about children? Would John Hughes have written a sequel to Ferris Bueller's Day Off? With over fifty posthumous interviews written entirely by Avitable, Interviews with Dead Celebrities will make you laugh, make you gasp, and may make you write him an angry letter telling him that he's evil for making you laugh. Read interviews with the following celebrities and public figures: Peter Graves, Lucille Ball, Adolf Hitler, Phil Hartman, Ed McMahon, Zelda Rubinstein, "Macho Man" Randy Savage, Sherman Hemsley, Jack Keivorkian, Barbara Billingsley, Corey Haim, Helen Keller, Leonard Stern, Osama bin Laden, Anna Nicole Smith, Gary Coleman, Heath Ledger, Patrick Swayze, Aaliyah, Tony Curtis, Greg Giraldo, Leslie Nielsen, Billy Mays, Brittany Murphy, George Carlin, Martin Luther King, Jr., Bob Guccione, Amy Winehouse, Roy Scheider, Dick Clark, Mark Twain, Elizabeth Taylor, Robert Novak, John Lennon, John Hughes, Amelia Earhart, Dennis Hopper, Michael Jackson, Oral Roberts, Farrah Fawcett, Walter Cronkite, Lisa "Left Eye" Lopes, Jack LaLanne, Kim Jong Il, Whitney Houston, Andy Rooney, Ted Kennedy, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Marilyn Monroe, Ronald Reagan, Joe Paterno, Nora Ephron, JD Salinger, Ray Bradbury, Princess Diana, and Steve Jobs. Adam Avitable is a blogger who has been writing at Avitable.com for thirteen years. He is a lawyer, a stand-up comedian, and a sucker for redheads. He loves bacon and chocolate but would give those up in a heartbeat just to make the world laugh until it collectively peed itself.

About the Author Adam Heath Avitable (1977-) is a comedian and a humorist from the Orlando area. He has been writing online since 1999 at Avitable.com and performing stand-up comedy since 2011. His writing has been honored by the blogging community on multiple occasions and he has spoken and lectured on writing and humor throughout the United States. He was voted one of 2010's hottest bloggers and subsequently appeared in the 2010 Hot Blogger Calendar. He'll probably keep telling people that until he's dead. Adam is also a lawyer who has never practiced law, but this doesn't stop him from providing completely erroneous and unsolicited legal advice to anyone within earshot. He got his Juris Doctorate from Washington University in Saint Louis and it's only slightly more useful than his Bachelor of Arts in East Asian Studies from Washington and Lee University, which he uses to try to seduce cute Japanese girls visiting Orlando. Unsuccessfully.
