Jennifer Leczkowski : Java Junkie: The Coffee Addict's Companion (Running Press Miniatures) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Java Junkie: The Coffee Addict's Companion (Running Press Miniatures):

You know them when you see them-they're the ones with a mug or to-go cup permanently affixed to their hand. Yes, coffee addicts. Chances are that if you aren't one, you know someone who is! From single espressos to venti nonfat foamy caf mochas, 70% of Americans are hooked-and with the growth of chain cafs, this audience is not going away anytime soon. In perfect to-go size fashion, The Java Junkie comically serves up a quiz to determine if you are addicted, and celebrate reasons to feed the caffeine craving. Whether read with the first pot of the day or the seventh mid-afternoon pick-me-up cup, The Java Junkie will leave fanatics of the buzz-filled little beans brewing to lick their habit!
