Before buying this book do a quick search for this author. Mark Geoffrey Young has a whole series of these joke books all of which get terrible reviews. I wouldn't be surprised if the jokes are the same in each of them, with the target group inserted to fill in the blanks. I purchased this as a gift, hoping that there would be jokes about Canada or jokes from Canada or something Canadian that was amusing. Instead this is a collection of mildly offensive jokes that could apply to any group you wanted to poke fun at in a not very flattering way. A couple of examples: What's the difference between a Canadian and a bucket of dirt? The bucket. What's the difference between sperm and a Canadian? Sperm has a 1 in 3 million chance of becoming a human being. What do you call 1000 Canadians at the bottom of the ocean? A good start. Needless to say I'm not going to be giving this to anybody as a gift. It's not even going to stay on my bookcase. Do not waste your money on this garbage. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. not so funny
By frank I got a bit disappointed because I thought it was funnier. Not a bag of laughs. It is strange for an aussie to write a book of american jokes.

If you've ever heard a Jewish, Italian, Irish, Libyan, Catholic, Mexican, Polish, Irish, Norwegian, or an Essex Girl, Newfie, Mother-in-Law, or joke aimed at a minority, this book of Belgian jokes is for you. In this not-so-original book, The Best Ever Book of Belgian Jokes; Lots and Lots of Jokes Specially Repurposed for You-Know-Who, Mark Young takes a whole lot of tired, worn out jokes and makes them funny again. The Best Ever Book of Belgian Jokes is so unoriginal, it's original. And, if you don't burst out laughing from at least one Belgian joke in this book, there's something wrong with you. This book has so many Belgian jokes; you won't know where to start. For example: Why do Belgians wear slip-on shoes? You need an IQ of at least 4 to tie a shoelace.  An evil genie captured a Belgian and her two friends and banished them to the desert for a week. The genie allowed each person to bring one thing. The first friend brought a canteen so he wouldn't die of thirst. The second friend brought an umbrella to keep the sun off. The Belgian brought a car door, because if it got too hot she could just roll down the window!  Did you hear about the Belgian who wore two jackets when she painted the house? The instructions on the can said: "Put on two coats."  Why do Belgians laugh three times when they hear a joke? Once when it is told, once when it is explained to them, and once when they understand it.
