I found this book to be very distasteful. I thought it was more about actual bowling but it wasn't. The book I currently have is called 'Pins and Needlers', The Funny World of Bowling by Steve Cruchon, Bruce Pluckhahn, and Chuck Pezzano. That is the type of bowling book I'm looking for. The book is junk as far as I'm concerned.

This book is nothing more than a lousy re-telling of jokes that previously could NOT be told, because they insulted some ethnic group. In other words, take a joke about Mexicans or Blacks, then substitute the words "Prison Guard," and you suddenly have a joke that insults a specific occupation, rather than some minority. Big deal... Spend your hard-earned money on something else (like your sister's abortion), rather than this un-original piece of garbage.

Vulgar jokes in this book, not appropriate for anyone other than family or close friends. I was horrified when I finally thumbed through the book right before I gifted it. Really had jokes that would be offensive, calling mail carriers stupid or mocking them. Really, the "jokes" were terrible.

If you've ever heard a Jewish, Italian, Irish, Libyan, Catholic, Mexican, Polish, Norwegian, or an Essex Girl, Newfie, Mother-in-Law, or joke aimed at a minority, this book of Carpet Layer jokes is for you. In this not-so-original book, The Best Ever Book of Carpet Layer Jokes; Lots and Lots of Jokes Specially Repurposed for You-Know-Who, Mark Young takes a whole lot of tired, worn out jokes and makes them funny again. The Best Ever Book of Carpet Layer Jokes is so unoriginal, it's original. And, if you don't burst out laughing from at least one Carpet Layer joke in this book, there's something wrong with you. This book has so many Carpet Layer jokes, you won't know where to start. For example: Why do Carpet Layers wear slip-on shoes? You need an IQ of at least 4 to tie a shoelace.  An evil genie captured a Carpet Layer and her two friends and banished them to the desert for a week. The genie allowed each person to bring one thing. The first friend brought a canteen so he wouldn't die of thirst. The second friend brought an umbrella to keep the sun off. The Carpet Layer brought a car door, because if it got too hot she could just roll down the window!  Did you hear about the Carpet Layer who wore two jackets when she painted the house? The instructions on the can said: "Put on two coats."  Why do Carpet Layers laugh three times when they hear a joke? Once when it is told, once when it is explained to them, and once when they understand it. ***
