As a teacher, I am constantly looking for fun ways to challenge my students to learn. I want to engage them in educational activities in which they can play together and use their critical thinking skills to solve problems. It was the inspiration behind this collection of over 100 of the best riddles. In order to make the activity fun and challenging for all levels, I have provided clues for every riddle. Whether you are eight or eighty years old, playing by yourself or with friends and family, I know that you will have many hours of fun solving them. Please also check out the newly released The Best Riddles in the World Volume 2 with clever riddles that are like vitamins for your brain. Get both copies now and double the fun.
